The student may make arrangements with teachers to make up work for excused absences with the understanding that some classroom activities do not lend themselves to make-up work. Guidelines for Requesting a Pre-Arranged Absence

In the interest of focusing valuable staff time only on students with an educationally sensible explanation for school absence, students and parents are required to follow prescribed steps to arrange for school absences that do not fall within the normal “excused absence” guidelines. A form will be available in the school office for this purpose. Criteria for excusing an absence and an appeal process are listed below.

Supporting Factors in Excusing Pre-Arranged Absences

- Absences of 5 days or fewer
- Absences for an educational purpose, e.g. college visit or cultural experience.
- Evidence that effort was made to re-schedule during non-school days
- Lack of options for re-scheduling during non-school days
- Activity that enriches the student’s life, e.g. non-school music competition
- Satisfactory past performance, either academic or attendance

Note: Teachers or the principal may excuse all or a portion of the days missed.

Process for Appeal of Pre-Arranged Absence Decision

- When students and/or parents wish to appeal the decision of a teacher to not excuse a pre-arranged absence, the matter must first be discussed with the teacher who made the decision.
- If the matter is not resolved to the satisfaction of the student and/or parent in discussion with the teacher, the student or parent may then bring the matter to the principal or designee.
- The principal or designee will meet with the student and/or parent to establish the basis of their disagreement with the teacher’s decision.
- Prior to issuing a decision, the principal or designee will consult with the teacher regarding the teacher’s rationale for not excusing the absence.
- Using the Supporting Factors (above) as a basis, the principal or designee will issue a decision to the student and/or parent as well as the teacher. This decision will become the official record of the school and may be used in a truancy proceeding as needed.
- Parents may appeal a decision made at the building level to the appropriate director, or superintendent or designee, whose decision is final.
