You may have notice that there are signs up around campus with the #SHELDONEQUITY. These signs have been made by Sheldon students that want ALL students to be treated with dignity and respect. The pictures show some of the staff and students that want to take a stand against degrading words and actions that happen on a high school campus. We want to unite and let people know that racist, homophobic, and sexist comments are not part of the culture here at Sheldon High School.

How can you be involved? First, let people around you know that these kinds of comments are not acceptable at Sheldon High School. Second, you can join in and have your picture taken while holding a sign? The signs, including both pre-made and the materials to make your own are in the library. Please go into the library throughout the day and the staff can help you to become part of this movement. We will be posting new pictures throughout the week. Come be a part of the movement!
